The 2016 Annual Catholic Appeal: The Courage to Love

The Archdiocese of St. Louis has been marked by moments of courageous leadership. In 1947, Cardinal Ritter desegregated Catholic schools, seven years before the United States Supreme Court mandated it.

In 1973, Cardinal Carberry led 30,000 people in a massive Pro-Life rally on the steps of the Old Courthouse in St. Louis.

When AIDS patients were shunned in the early 1980s, Archbishop May said the only response we can have as Christians is love and care.

A Legacy of Courage Continues

The Annual Catholic Appeal is a call to everyone to have the courage to love. The Appeal is our opportunity to help someone in a desperate situation, someone who is suffering, lost or lonely. While it might be more comfortable to turn away from someone who is suffering, experiencing hardship or living with illness or isolation, we are asked to be courageous.

When we find someone in a desperate situation, we are invited to do something extraordinary: in word and action we are challenged by Pope Francis to reach out and touch the suffering flesh of Christ.

A Witness of Compassion

The Annual Catholic Appeal continuously supports efforts to make this possible. In schools and parishes, on street corners and in chapels, at home and at work, Catholics daily take up the call to grow in our relationship with Jesus Christ and share Him constantly.

The Jubilee Year of Mercy announced by Pope Francis opens up extraordinary opportunities for offering and receiving forgiveness. The Holy Father wants to make it evident that the Church's mission is to be a witness of compassion.

Gifts to the Annual Catholic Appeal strengthen the ability of our parishes, schools and agencies to build the Church into a community of courageous love.

How Annual Catholic Appeal Funds Are Used

(Goals for 2016 Appeal)

Approximately 91 cents of every dollar raised goes back into the community in the form of direct services.

Archdiocese of St. Louis Announces Successful Annual Catholic Appeal

Appeal Exceeds Goal by Nearly $1.4 million Despite Tight Economy

ST. LOUIS – On Friday, Most Reverend Robert J. Carlson, Archbishop of St. Louis, announced the results of the 2016 Annual Catholic Appeal (ACA) which raised nearly $14.9 million with generous contributions from more than 51,000 Catholic households and the Perpetual Light Society Endowment. Anticipated estate and corporate matching gifts will add to the total.

The results show unwavering support among Catholics for the archdiocese and its ministries. Nearly 60 parishes increased participation over last year, while 150 parishes surpassed their financial goal. The $14.89 million raised in 2016 exceeds the $13.5 million overall goal, reflecting the generosity of so many donors, even in a tight economic environment and despite other major campaigns in the archdiocese.

"Your generous response to the Annual Catholic Appeal helps us to share Christ's love and mercy with families throughout our Archdiocese," Archbishop Carlson said. "Thank you for your many prayers and sacrifices. I will be praying for you and for all who will benefit from the Appeal."

Christopher Schmidt, 2016 ACA Chairman, added, "I want to express my sincere gratitude to our pastors, parish chairs, hundreds of volunteers, the Stewardship Office that leads the ACA effort and, above all, the generous individuals and families in the archdiocese. It is humbling to realize that over 50,000 households generously donated nearly $15 million to build the Church. Because of your sacrificial gifts, many people in our community will continue to get the loving help they need. Thank you for your steadfast commitment and generosity."

Each spring, the ACA asks Catholics in nearly 200 parishes across the archdiocese to make pledges to support programs, organizations, and ministries for people of all faith traditions. Spanning ten counties and the City of St. Louis, these programs assist the homeless and hungry, provide pro-life resources, support women and their children, and fund Catholic education and family counseling, among other charitable works. All of the money raised each year through the Annual Catholic Appeal is distributed to the various programs, organizations, and ministries that carry out the important work of the Church.
