HISTORY OF THE ARCHDIOCESE OF ST. LOUIS

The Archdiocese of St. Louis is rich in history. Beginning with the establishment of the first parish along the banks of the Mississippi in 1759, our Archdiocese has played a vital role in the history of both our region and the Catholic Church in the United States.

The eleven counties that presently make up our Archdiocese are a tiny fraction of the original territory that was the Diocese of St. Louis. In fact, the Archdiocese of St. Louis once extended as far west as the Rocky Mountains and included all or part of fourteen states.

The diocese was established on July 18, 1826 when Pope Leo XIII divided what was then the territory of the Louisiana Purchase into two dioceses: one here in St. Louis and the other remaining, as it had been, in the city of New Orleans. The first Bishop of the new diocese was Joseph Rosati, a member of the Vincentian Fathers.

America moved west and on July 20, 1847 Pope Pius IX made St. Louis an Archdiocese. From the St. Louis territory new dioceses were created which now include Dubuque, Chicago, Milwaukee and Saint Paul. Each of these cities would become an Archdiocese in its own right. In total, forty-five Catholic dioceses have been created out of the territory that made up Bishop Rosati's original responsibility. Following Bishop Rosati, Bishop Peter Richard Kenrick was appointed to lead the diocese and he automatically became Archbishop when the diocese received its new status.

From 1847 through 1956 several changes of boundaries were made for the Archdiocese of St. Louis. Our present boundaries were defined on July 2, 1956 when the four Catholic dioceses in the state of Missouri were given their present boundaries. The four dioceses of the state of Missouri include the Archdiocese of St. Louis, the Diocese of Jefferson City, the Diocese of Springfield-Cape Girardeau and the Diocese of Kansas City-St. Joseph. While each diocese is independent, the bishops of the state keep in close contact for the benefit of all Missouri Catholics.

The Archdiocese presently encompasses 5,968 square miles and is made up of St. Louis City and County, and the counties of Franklin, Jefferson, Washington, Perry, Lincoln, Warren, St. Charles, St. Francois and Ste. Genevieve.

The Archdiocese has had ten had ten bishops, many of whom are remembered in the names of our institutions. In addition to Bishop Joseph Rosati and Archbishop Peter R. Kenrick were Archbishop John J. Kain, Cardinal John J. Glennon, Cardinal Joseph E. Ritter, Cardinal John J. Carberry, Archbishop John L. May, Cardinal Justin F. Rigali, Cardinal Raymond L. Burke, and our present Archbishop Robert J. Carlson. The Primary Patron of the Archdiocese is St. Louis IX, King of France, whose feast is celebrated August 25. The Secondary Patrons are St. Vincent de Paul, whose feast is celebrated on September 27 and St. Rose Philippine Duchesne, whose feast is celebrated on November 18.

CHRISTIAN WITNESS STATEMENT

The mission of Jesus Christ and the Holy Spirit is the mission of the Catholic Church, to reveal God the Father, Son, and Holy Spirit to all people and to teach them about the fullness of His love. “Indeed the primordial mission of the Church is to proclaim God and to be His witness before the world” (General Directory for Catechesis). The Archdiocese of St. Louis shares in a special way in the Church’s mission by proclaiming and witnessing Jesus Christ and His teachings.

The Archdiocese of St. Louis exists in order to evangelize. Two important elements that make up the process of evangelization are proclamation and witness. It is essential, therefore, that those who serve in the Archdiocese proclaim Jesus Christ, His life and ministry, present the Catholic faith in its fullness and be Christ’s witness to the world. Initially those being evangelized will be attracted to and listen to those who are good witnesses. “The Good News proclaimed by the witness of life sooner or later has to be proclaimed by the word of life” (Evangelii Nuntiandi). Some in the Archdiocese are called to be explicit proclaimers of the Word. But all who serve in the Archdiocese are called to be witnesses to the life and teachings of Jesus Christ and the Catholic Church. Therefore, the following Witness Statement applies to all who serve the Archdiocese of St. Louis.

All who serve in the Archdiocese of St. Louis, in the parishes, schools, offices, agencies and other ministries and apostolates will witness by their public behavior, actions, and words, a life consistent with the teachings of the Catholic Church.

Only those persons who can support this Witness Statement are to be employed by pastors, principals, and directors.

All who serve in the Archdiocese of Saint Louis should be made aware that support of this Witness Statement must be reflected in their public behavior. All who serve in the Archdiocese should:

- believe in God
- support belief in Jesus Christ
- engage in prayer
- respect ecclesiastical authority
- possess a basic knowledge of the Catholic Church
- not take a public position contrary to the Catholic Church
- demonstrate a public life consistent with the teachings of the Catholic Church
- if Catholic, have not publicly rejected the Catholic Church
- be active members of the Catholic Church, or of their own Church if not Catholic

The above is a thorough but not all-inclusive listing of the implications of this Witness Statement.

IMPLEMENTATION OF THIS WITNESS STATEMENT

All who serve in the Archdiocese should be provided with opportunities to have the basic and essential teachings of the Catholic Church, applicable to the Witness Statement and its implications, explained so that they may be open to an understanding and appreciation of them.

This Witness Statement and its implications should be used in interviewing and hiring applicants who will serve in the Archdiocese to determine their openness to its message.

This Witness Statement and its implications should be used by all as part of the discussions in the initial offering of employment or renewal of employment contracts.

This Witness Statement and its implications should be included in the various publications of the Archdiocese: employee handbooks, student handbooks, marketing brochures, policy statements, etc.

Reflection on and discussion of this Witness Statement and its implications should be integrated by pastors, principals, and directors into appropriate gatherings of those who serve in the Archdiocese: commissioning services, meetings, homilies, prayer days, etc.

SAFE ENVIRONMENT PROGRAM COMPLIANCE

The Archdiocese of St. Louis strictly adheres to the Charter for the Protection of Children and Young People adopted by the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops in June, 2002, and is committed to the safety of all children involved with any archdiocesan program. As such all employees, volunteers and interns whose work with a school, parish or agency in this archdiocese puts them in contact with children or minors three or more times a year, must be in full compliance with the Safe Environment Program (SEP) that is detailed in the Charter.

Compliance requires attendance at a Protecting God's Children workshop, signing the "Code of Ethical Conduct for Clergy, Employees and Volunteers Working with Minors," and submission to a background check which is then updated every even-numbered year.

This archdiocese conducts Missouri background checks through the Missouri Family Care Safety Registry which provides information on state criminal history, sex offender registry and child abuse and neglect records. If a background screening does report criminal history an individual may be disqualified from working or volunteering around children or minors depending on the nature of the offense.

Individuals who have lived outside of Missouri within the past five years must also undergo a national background check.

Safe Environment Program compliance should be completed in a timely fashion. For more information about the program contact the SEP Office at 314.792.7271.

INTRODUCTION

In fulfilling its mission to preach the Good News of Jesus Christ, the Catholic Church has assumed a variety of roles in our world. One role, which the Church has taken on by circumstance, is that of Employer.

In the past, the Church, through religious congregations and diocesan systems, undertook many personnel functions. They recruited, selected, trained, compensated and supported their employees. However, over the last forty years, some significant changes have occurred in the Church in fulfilling its role as employer:

The documents of Vatican II place even greater emphasis on the dignity of the individual person and on the notion of the common good;

Vatican II emphasizes the Church as the People of God, who all share in the common priesthood of Christ and who are responsible for the building of the Kingdom;

In the celebration of this call to ministry through baptism, there has been an increase in pastoral services within the Church, which has led to lay persons assuming many of the ministerial roles traditionally held by sisters, brothers or priests;

An increasing number of concerns identified by parishes have required professionally trained persons in ministry to respond to these needs;

Public scrutiny of Church policies and practices in the light of civil law has heightened, especially in matters relating to employment.

In their recent pastoral letter on the relationship of all Catholic social teaching to the American economy (Economic Justice for All), the American Bishops speak of the role of the Church as employer when they acknowledge the large numbers of people the Church employs in its parishes, schools, health care institutions, social service agencies and diocesan offices. Our bishops urge us to recognize our responsibility for the support of those who carry out the mission of the Church.

This Handbook is an attempt to offer a direction and challenge to the Archdiocese of St. Louis to be an employer that exemplifies and models just, equitable, and fair policies and procedures. All Archdiocese employees in a position of leadership have the responsibility of administering these policies in a consistent and impartial manner. This Handbook is intended for those employees who are not already covered by existing personnel policies or union contracts.

PURPOSE OF THIS HANDBOOK

The policies in this Handbook apply to the lay employees of the offices and agencies of the Archdiocese of St. Louis. For persons who have an employment contract or a union contract, the policies apply to the extent that they supplement but not conflict with the specific terms and provisions of those agreements.

This Handbook is designed to acquaint employees with the Archdiocese and provide them with information about working conditions, employee benefits, and employment policies of the Archdiocese. Employees should read, understand, and comply with all provisions of this Handbook. It describes employee responsibilities and outlines programs developed by the Archdiocese to benefit lay employees working in its offices and agencies.

No handbook can anticipate every circumstance or question about policies. The Archdiocese reserves the right to revise, supplement or rescind any policies or portion of this Handbook from time to time, as it deems appropriate, in its sole and absolute discretion. The only exception to any changes in this Handbook is our employment-at-will policy that permits an employee or the Archdiocese to end an employment relationship for any reason at any time. This Handbook supersedes all prior written or oral policies pertaining to the subjects covered herein and may not be amended or supplemented without the approval of the Office of Human Resources.

Questions regarding policies and procedures governing employment by the Archdiocese, and those relating to the administration of employee benefits, should be addressed to the Office of Human Resources. Detailed information concerning specific employee benefit programs may also be obtained from the Office of Human Resources.

NATURE OF EMPLOYMENT

Employment with the Archdiocese is voluntarily entered into. The employee is free to resign at will at any time, and the Archdiocese may terminate the employment relationship at will at any time, with or without notice or cause, so long as there is no violation of applicable federal, state or local law.

Policies set forth in this Handbook are not intended to create a contract, nor are they to be construed to constitute contractual obligations of any kind or a contract of employment between the Archdiocese and any of its employees.

EQUAL EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITY

The Archdiocese is committed to providing equal employment opportunities for all persons without regard to race, color, sex, age, national origin, ancestry, citizenship, or disability, or other categories protected by law. The Archdiocese will also not discriminate on the basis of religion unless religious affiliation or expertise is needed due to the nature of the position. The religious character of the Archdiocese imposes some employment conditions and work scheduling not generally found in other organizations. Some of these conditions and requirements are covered in appropriate sections of this Handbook, and some may be applicable in employment decisions made by the Archdiocese. Employment decisions by the Archdiocese will be based on merit, qualifications, and abilities. This policy governs all aspects of employment, including selection, job assignment, compensation, discipline, termination and access to benefits and training.

The Archdiocese will make reasonable accommodations for qualified individuals with known disabilities unless doing so would result in an undue hardship.

Any employees with questions or concerns about any type of discrimination in the workplace are encouraged to bring these issues to the attention of their immediate supervisor, to their manager or directly to Human Resources. Employees may raise concerns and reports without fear of reprisal. Anyone found to have engaged in any type of unlawful discrimination will be subject to disciplinary action, up to and including termination of employment.

EMPLOYMENT POLICIES AND PRACTICES

EMPLOYEE CLASSIFICATIONS

It is the intent of the Archdiocese to clarify the definitions of employment classifications, so that each employee understands his or her employment status and benefit eligibility. These classifications do not guarantee employment for any specified periods of time or in any way alter the at-will employment relationship.

Each employee is designated as either non-exempt or exempt from federal and state wage and hour laws. Non-exempt employees are entitled to overtime pay under the specific provisions of federal and state laws. Exempt employees are excluded from specific provisions of federal and state wage and hour laws. The type of position an employee holds determines an employee's exempt or non-exempt classification. In general, persons holding positions that are predominantly executive, professional, managerial or administrative in nature and certain positions involving computer programming or systems analysis are considered exempt, and the Office of Human Resources of the Archdiocese in conjunction with the department director shall make the determination of which positions are exempt.

In addition to designation as an exempt or non-exempt employee, each employee will belong to one of the following employment classifications:

REGULAR FULL-TIME employees are those who are not in a temporary status and who are regularly scheduled to work a minimum of thirty-five (35) hours per week. Generally, they are eligible for the Archdiocesan benefit package subject to the terms, conditions and limitations of each benefit program. Employees who work a minimum of 35 hours per week during "the school year" shall be regarded as "Regular Full-Time."

REGULAR PART-TIME employees are those who are not assigned to a temporary or seasonal status and who are regularly scheduled to work less than thirty-five (35) hours per week or who are scheduled to work in a position that is needed only during a portion of the year. Regular part-time employees (including "school year" employees) who work at least 1000 hours per year are eligible for the Archdiocesan benefit package on a part time basis, subject to the terms, conditions and limitations of each benefit program.

TEMPORARY OR SEASONAL employees are those who are hired as interim replacements to supplement temporarily the work force or to assist in the completion of a specific project. Employment assignments in this category are of a limited duration. Employment beyond any initially stated period does not in any way imply a change in employment status. Temporary or seasonal employees retain that status unless and until notified of a change. While temporary employees receive all legally mandated benefits (such as workers' compensation insurance and social security), they are not eligible for any of the other benefit programs of the Archdiocese.

NEPOTISM

Relatives of a currently employed worker generally are considered for employment on the basis of their qualifications. However, where the transfer, hiring, or employment of an employee's relative would result in a direct or indirect supervisor/subordinate relationship, the Archdiocese will not consider or accept such applications for employment. The hiring of an immediate family member may be prohibited if such hiring would create either an actual conflict of interest or the appearance of one.

For the purposes of this policy, "immediate family" includes the spouse, parent, child(ren), brother, sister, in-law, grandparent, grandchild(ren), aunt, uncle, cousin, step-relative or any member of an employee's household.

Employees who marry or develop a relationship not in violation of Catholic teaching may continue in their current positions as long as a prohibited employment relationship is not created. If a prohibited situation occurs, the Office of Human Resources must be notified within thirty days. If deemed inappropriate, an attempt will be made to find another position where one of the employees may transfer at the earliest possible time. If an accommodation is not feasible, the employees will be permitted to determine which one of them will resign.

Where such situations are unavoidable, safeguards against favoritism relating to pay, promotion and other working conditions will be implemented by the office or agency director in cooperation with the Office of Human Resources.

PAYROLL PERIODS

There are two payroll periods per month, one ending on the 15th and the other on the last day of the month. If a holiday should fall on a regularly scheduled payday, employees will be paid on the preceding business day. Direct deposit of paychecks is mandatory for all employees.

EMPLOYEE SELF-SERVICE

The Archdiocese of St. Louis uses an Employee Self-Service system to provide employees access to and control of certain employee information. Currently this information includes current health insurance/benefits/beneficiary details, address changes, payroll information for selected organizations, and annual benefits open enrollment. Employees will be provided with their own User Name and Password to access this system during the employment with an Archdiocesan related organization.

Entries made via the Self-Service process will be considered to have an electronic signature that is the equivalent authorization to your physical signature.

OVERTIME

Non-exempt employees will be paid at time and one half for all hours worked in excess of 40 hours per week. Compensated time off (comp time) in lieu of overtime is not permitted. All overtime must be scheduled or approved by the employee's supervisor before overtime hours are worked.

Employees are encouraged to participate in Archdiocesan organizations just as Catholics who are not employed by the Archdiocese or its offices are encouraged to do. Even when such service involves representing the Archdiocese, the opportunity to serve shall be looked upon as an invitation, not a mandate, and shall be accepted at the employee's discretion and not compensated. If the Archdiocese requires such service, it shall constitute service for which compensation is due.

At times, evening meetings and weekend events are part of an employee's duties. These agreed upon duties are not subject to overtime if they fall within the 40-hour workweek. Hours worked by exempt employees are determined by the responsibilities of their positions and are not subject to overtime pay.

SERVICE DATE

An employee transferring within the same organizational unit (i.e., an agency, parish or school of the Archdiocese) or from one Archdiocesan organizational unit to another will retain credit for past service among employers of the Archdiocese.

Service Date and Benefits: A former employee who is hired back by any archdiocesan organizational unit within five years will have his/her service date reflect credit for past years of service to the Archdiocese to determine vacation benefit and eligibility for employer contributions to the retirement plan. The Long term Disability policy is limited to a break in service of twelve months. Accrued sick leave will not be carried over any break in service.

WORK SCHEDULES

All regular full-time employees are scheduled to work a minimum of 35 hours per calendar week. The Director determines the specified working hours. Flexible time arrangements should be considered when feasible.

Work schedules may be adjusted at the discretion of the supervisor. However, under normal circumstances, a regular full-time employee will be scheduled to work at least 35 hours in any calendar week. (This assumes a standard workday of 8 hours, including a one hour unpaid meal period.)

Work schedules for benefits-eligible part-time employees will be established by the supervisor and will be based on the needs of the employer and the employee.

BREAKS AND MEAL PERIODS

All employees who work over four (4) hours per day are allowed an unpaid lunch period each day, and this time is not considered part of the workday. Each Director will determine the length of the unpaid lunch period (e.g. 30 or 60 minutes). All such employees will also be eligible for a daily paid 15-minute break as scheduled by the supervisor.

PAYROLL DEDUCTIONS

All deductions from an employee's wages shall be in accordance with applicable law and, when required, the employee's written consent.

Deductions not taken for any pay period may be carried over to succeeding pay periods and deducted from the wages due in the succeeding pay period to the extent allowed by law.

Employees must consent in writing or via electronic systems enrollment to the following deductions:

- Charitable contributions
- Employee contributions to the retirement plan
- Flexible Spending Account deduction
- Voluntary term life insurance
- Employee share of the health plan premium
- Employee contributions to the Annual Catholic Appeal

Employees shall be required to complete all applicable forms necessary for deductions as may be required by law; such forms include the federal and state W-4 forms.

ABSENCES/TARDINESS

If a situation makes it impossible for an employee to report for work for any reason or cause late arrival, the supervisor should be notified prior to the beginning of the scheduled workday. The employee is responsible for speaking directly to the supervisor. Messages left on voicemail are sufficient for initial notification of the absence, but the employee must speak in person with the supervisor at some point during that workday.

PERSONNEL RECORDS

Upon written request, employees may inspect the documents in their personnel file in the presence of an Archdiocesan representative at a mutually convenient time. No employee is permitted to remove any item from this file.

The Archdiocese will restrict disclosure of personnel files to authorized individuals. Disclosures to outside parties about employees will be limited to dates of employment and position held. The Archdiocese will provide other information to outside parties, including wages or salary, only if authorized in writing by the employee. However, the Archdiocese will cooperate with requests from authorized law enforcement agencies or as legally required.

STATUS CHANGES

Each employee is responsible for notifying the Archdiocese in writing when there is a change of name, address, telephone number or other necessary information. An employee shall notify his or her supervisor and the Office of Human Resources within 30 days so that personnel, payroll, and insurance records will be correct. This notification may be done via the Employee Self-Service on-line system.

SEPARATION FROM EMPLOYMENT

Employees who decide to resign are expected to submit a letter of resignation to their supervisor at least two full weeks prior to their last intended day of work. The letter of resignation should include reasons for leaving. Employees who fail to provide two weeks' written notice may forfeit unused vacation and other benefits, as determined by the Archdiocese. Resigning employees will be asked to have an exit interview with the supervisor to discuss benefit options and other matters. If the Archdiocese dismisses an employee, those eligible may use the appeals procedure described in this Handbook.

Employees terminated due to unsatisfactory job performance or any violation of policies or procedures forfeit any accrued but unused vacation or other leave, and they will not be paid for those unused benefits.

FINAL PAYCHECK

Final paychecks will be calculated and given to an employee whose employment terminates at the end of the last day worked. Any final deductions will be deducted from the employee's final paycheck.

PROCEDURES FOR APPEALING DISCHARGE

If a regular employee believes that his/her discharge has been unfair according to these policies and procedures, the employee has a right to appeal the discharge using the steps outlined below. The Archdiocese and the employee being discharged shall follow the steps outlined below in an appeal of the decision to discharge the employee:

Step One: The employee being discharged shall request in writing a conference with his/her supervisor to present the appeal of the decision. This request must be made within ten business days of the receipt of the notice of termination. The conference shall be held within five business days from the date of the receipt of the request. The decision of the supervisor shall be given in writing within five business days after the conference. A written record of at least the decision shall be kept in the employee's personnel file.

Step Two: If the matter is not resolved to the satisfaction of the employee being discharged, and if the supervisor of the employee is a person other than the Director, the employee may request a conference with the Director for review of the decision. This request must be made to the Director within ten business days of the receipt of the decision of the supervisor given under Step One. Within five business days of the receipt of this request, the Director shall meet with the employee and with the supervisor to review the decision to discharge the employee. The decision of the Director shall be final and shall be given in writing within five business days after the conclusion of the meeting with the employee and the supervisor. A written record of at least the decision must be kept in the employee's personnel file.

STANDARDS OF CONDUCT

The Church is a sign of Jesus Christ in the world today. Therefore, the mission of Christ is the mission of the Church. Jesus was sent to reveal the Father to all people and teach them about the fullness of His love. He commissioned His Church to do likewise; to help men and women to know about God and themselves and to nourish their love of Him and for each other. In essence, the mission of Christ and His Church is to bring about the Kingdom of God.

Example is one of the most important means by which this mission is fulfilled. Our words and actions proclaim Christ — His message, values and attitudes — and we translate the Gospel into our personal life style. We recognize the profound effect we have upon people's lives.

Employees are expected not to engage publicly in any conduct or expression which is contrary to the teachings of the Catholic Church.

HARASSMENT INCLUDING SEXUAL HARASSMENT

The Archdiocese of St. Louis acknowledges its continuing commitment to a work environment that is free from unlawful discrimination and any type of harassment, including sexual harassment. The Archdiocese prohibits any harassment of its employees by anyone, including any manager, director, supervisor, co-worker, vendor, student or visitor.

Harassment involves unwelcome conduct -- whether verbal, physical or visual -- which targets a person's protected status, such as age, ancestry, citizenship, race, color, disability, national origin, religion, sex, veteran status, handicap or other categories protected by law. The Archdiocese of St. Louis forbids harassment, because it is not in keeping with the Gospel message of Jesus Christ and the standards of the Catholic Church, and it is unlawful and disrupts a proper working environment.

Sexual harassment deserves special mention. It involves any one or more of unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, or other physical, verbal or visual conduct of a sexual nature in any one or more of the following circumstances:

- An individual's either stated or implied conditions of employment require her or his submission to such conduct;
- The reason for an employment decision involves an individual's submission to or rejection of such conduct;
- Such conduct has either the purpose or effect of unreasonably interfering with an individual's work performance or creating an intimidating, hostile or offensive work environment.

Sexual harassment may include any one or more of direct sexual propositions, sexual innuendo, suggestive comments, sexually oriented "kidding" or "teasing," "practical jokes," jokes about gender-specific traits, foul or sexually oriented language or gestures, display of foul or sexually oriented printed or visual material, (including electronically transmitted material), or physical contact, such as patting, pinching, or brushing against another's body.

The policy of the Archdiocese of St. Louis also prohibits other forms of harassment that create an intimidating, hostile or offensive work environment based on an individual's other protected status such as race, religion, age, national origin, citizenship, ancestry, color, veteran status, handicap or disability. The Archdiocese prohibits any offensive comments, innuendo, jokes or other activities that target any one or more of an individual's protected statuses. This includes the display or distribution of offensive pictures, literature, or messages whether spoken, written or sent by electronic transmission.

All employees within the Archdiocese have the responsibility to make this anti-harassment policy effective. If an employee either experiences or notices any harassment of any type, he or she must immediately discuss it with the Director of the office or agency, a supervisor, or Human Resources.

The Archdiocese investigates every harassment complaint thoroughly and promptly. All investigations will be conducted in a sensitive manner and to the extent feasible confidentiality will be honored. The investigation and all actions taken will be shared only with those who have a need to know. The Archdiocese will furnish the employee filing the complaint with a response as promptly as possible at the conclusion of the investigation.

After investigation, if the Archdiocese determines that a supervisor or other employee has engaged in sexual or other forms of harassment, appropriate disciplinary action, up to and including termination, will be taken against the offending individual.

The Archdiocese of St. Louis is committed to providing a harassment-free workplace and to this end prohibits any retaliatory action against employees who file a complaint under this policy or who assist in the investigation of a complaint under this policy.

After investigation, if the Archdiocese determines that an employee has provided false information regarding the harassment complaint, appropriate disciplinary action, up to and including termination, will be taken against the employee who furnished false information.

VIOLENCE PREVENTION

The welfare of employees and the security of our facilities require that every individual be constantly aware of potential security risks. All potentially violent situations will be taken seriously and all threats of violence against any person will be reported to the appropriate authorities immediately. Any employees who experience or witness any act or threat of violence must report it immediately to their Supervisor, Director, or the Office of Human Resources. The possession of firearms or dangerous weapons on Archdiocesan premises is prohibited.

DATA AND COMMUNICATIONS NETWORK USAGE POLICIES

All electronic data management and communications systems and all communications and information transmitted by, received from, or stored in these systems, as well as any software and business equipment, including, but not limited to facsimiles, copy machines, scanners, telephones, voice mail, computers, printers, E-mail systems, and Internet systems, are Archdiocesan property and as such are to be used primarily for job-related purposes.

Employees who choose to use any of the above for personal purposes do so at their own risk and with the understanding that the Archdiocese monitors the use of such equipment and stored information from time to time. Improper use of the E-mail or Internet systems, including the spreading of offensive jokes or remarks in violation of the Anti-harassment Policy, will not be tolerated. Transmission of material in violation of any federal, state or local laws or regulations is prohibited.

Employees are prohibited from signing up for non-business mailing lists, downloading material not approved by their Supervisor and generating or sending unsolicited commercial E-mail. Employees are prohibited from creating, storing, transmitting, or purposely accessing pornographic, illegal, or otherwise offensive material. Using Archdiocesan computer systems to store personal data, gamble, shop, surf, or play computer games is not permitted.

Employees should understand that they waive any expectation of privacy with respect to anything they create, store, send or receive in connection with their use of Archdiocesan electronic data management or communication systems. Employees who violate this policy are subject to disciplinary action, up to and including termination.

All access codes for E-mail, Internet or other electronic communication systems are Archdiocesan property. No employee may use an access code that has not been issued to the employee or that is unknown to the Archdiocese. Some information stored in the archdiocesan electronic communication system is of a sensitive nature, and access is restricted to specific employees. Employees are not permitted to access a file, retrieve any stored communication, or use any access code unless authorized to do so or unless they have received prior clearance from an authorized representative. All logins for the archdiocesan facilities must comply with archdiocesan security standards. They must follow the strength and expiration requirements implemented by the Archdiocese.

Through the above systems, the Archdiocese may provide employee access to the Internet or any other public electronic data communications network. All Internet traffic is monitored by the Archdiocese, and inappropriate sites are blocked from access. External E-mail over the Internet offers broadly similar capabilities to our internal E-mail system, except that correspondents are not employed by the Archdiocese. Since external E-mail messages may contain information that the Archdiocese would consider to be offensive or inappropriate, employees must assure that external E-mail received by them does not jeopardize Archdiocesan systems or violate Archdiocesan policies.

No equipment may be attached to the archdiocesan network without prior approval from the Archdiocesan Data Center. Physical security of all equipment must be managed in a manner to prevent unapproved use to gain access to business information. All commercial software in use at the Archdiocese must be licensed by the individuals using the software.

Employees are expected to comply with the Archdiocesan Social Media policy available through the Office of Communications.

DRUG AND ALCOHOL ABUSE

The unlawful manufacture, distribution, dispensation, possession, or use of a controlled substance is prohibited in the workplace or while on duty. Further, the use of alcohol in the workplace or while on duty is prohibited unless authorized in the course of a social or fundraising event. In these instances, employees are expected to exercise moderation and good judgment.

The Archdiocese reserves the right to have employees tested for illegal substances subsequent to any work related incident that results in injury to any person, and in any other circumstances that it may deem just and appropriate. Employees who violate this policy will be subject to discipline up to and including termination.

The Archdiocese reserves the right to have an employee tested for alcohol where there is a reasonable suspicion that the individual is intoxicated or under the influence of alcohol.

The term “controlled substance” refers to all illegal drugs and to legal drugs used without a physician’s order. It does not prohibit taking prescribed medication under the direction of a physician.

Employees experiencing substance-dependency problems, including alcohol dependency, are encouraged to seek assistance regarding rehabilitation.

SMOKING

In order to provide a safe and healthful work environment, smoking is restricted to designated areas. This policy applies equally to all employees, customers and visitors.

CONFIDENTIALITY

During the course of their employment, employees may learn information which is not publicly known regarding clients, students, parishioners, fellow employees or the employing entity or the Archdiocese. Such information is confidential and may not be disclosed to other persons, except as may be required in the course of the employee's work.

INSPECTIONS

It is the policy of the Archdiocese to ask employees to refrain from bringing unnecessary or inappropriate personal property to work.

Employees are expected to exercise reasonable care to safeguard personal items brought to work. The Archdiocese is not responsible for the loss, damage or theft of personal belongings; and employees are advised not to carry unnecessary amounts of cash or other valuables with them when they come to work.

To maintain security, the Archdiocese may inspect the contents of Archdiocesan storage areas, file cabinets, electronic systems and files, desks, and work stations at any time and remove all property and other items that violate Archdiocesan rules and policies. In addition, where there is a reasonable suspicion of theft, criminal activity, fraud, embezzlement, risk of harm or danger to any person, or a serious violation of policies, the Archdiocese reserves the right to inspect all personal property brought onto Archdiocesan premises.

CONFLICT RESOLUTION

It is almost inevitable in any setting where people work together that there will be conflicts among personnel. Employees are encouraged to resolve these conflicts directly with the others involved and in a Christian spirit. The Archdiocese is counting on all who work for it to work together cooperatively. If, however, two or more staff members are not able to resolve their conflict, they are encouraged to approach their supervisor for assistance or for resources they could call on to do so. They also may contact the Archdiocesan Employee Assistance Program for assistance. If the conflict involves their supervisor, they should approach the next level of supervision. If the conflict involves their Director, they should approach the Office of Human Resources for assistance.

PERFORMANCE APPRAISAL

Performance evaluation is a continuous process with management periodically formally reviewing each employee's performance in writing. At this time the supervisor will review and discuss the employee's progress. This performance review is seen as a valuable opportunity to keep job expectations clear, affirm employee achievements and progress, and develop plans for improvement and growth.

Each employee will receive a performance review annually.

A copy of the performance review will be provided to the employee for his/her records, and a copy will be placed in the employee's personnel file.

The Federal Insurance Contribution Act (FICA) tax imposed by the federal government on both employees and employers to fund Social Security and Medicare – federal programs that provide benefits for retirees, the disabled, and children of deceased workers. Social security benefits include old age, survivors and disability insurance. Medicare provides hospital insurance benefits.

All Archdiocesan entities participate in the Social Security and Medicare systems. Payroll deductions are made to cover the employee's share of the taxes for these systems, and the Archdiocese contributes a like amount. These amounts are determined each year by the Social Security Administration.

WORKERS' COMPENSATION

It is the policy of the Archdiocese to comply with state laws and to aid any employee whose injury or illness is determined to be compensable under the provisions of the Missouri Workers' Compensation Act. The Archdiocese pays for all costs associated with providing this coverage, and the insurance carrier will make all payments and decisions pertaining to compensable illnesses or injuries.

An employee injured at work must immediately notify his or her supervisor. Medical benefits and other rights that an employee may have could be lost if an injury is not promptly reported.

LIABILITY COVERAGE

The Archdiocese provides comprehensive liability insurance coverage for all employees while in pursuit of their responsibilities as employees within the terms of the self-funded Risk Management Program of the Archdiocese.

EMPLOYEE BENEFITS

- HEALTH INSURANCE PLAN

All regular employees who are expected to work a minimum of 1,000 hours annually are eligible to participate in one of the health plans offered by the Archdiocese. To respond to individual needs of employees, there is a choice of plans. The Archdiocese of St. Louis shares the cost of the premium with employees contingent upon the eligible employee's employment classification of full time or part time. If application is made within 31 days of eligibility, coverage will be made effective on the 1st date of work. The employee may enroll into one of three coverage tiers: employee only, employee plus one dependent, or employee plus family. Explanations, applications, premium information, and conditions of benefits for these plans are provided to employees upon hire and annually during the open enrollment period in May.

All employees enrolled in the health insurance plan also receive the following benefits:

- PRESCRIPTION
- LIFE & ACCIDENTAL DEATH AND DISMEMBERMENT (AD&D)

Coverage ends on the last day of employment. There is Continuation of Coverage when an employee or dependent ceases to be eligible for participation in the Health Insurance Plan. A terminated employee may be eligible for a Continuation of Coverage health insurance policy at their own expense.

Employee's contribution for health insurance is payroll deducted on a pre-tax basis, unless the employee requests after-tax basis.

- VOLUNTARY LIFE .

The Archdiocese currently facilitates participation on the part of interested eligible employees in a Voluntary Term Life Insurance Program.

Regular employees who work a minimum of 1,000 hours annually may purchase supplemental life insurance benefits. The employee pays the entire premium after taxes. Employee Open Enrollment is limited to an eligibility window of 31 days from 1st date of work. An employee may elect to participate after the 31 days from date of employment but the employee would need to be approved by the insurance carrier first.

- LONG TERM DISABILITY INSURANCE

The Archdiocese provides Long Term Disability Insurance coverage to employees who have been employed for 90 days of continuous employment and will continue to work a minimum of 1,000 hours per year at no cost to the employee. This Plan pays 60% of the employee's base salary per applicable adjustments in the plan document after completing the 180 days elimination period. The employer pays the entire premium.

- RETIREMENT PLAN

All eligible employees (regardless of age, hours accumulated or length of service) may elect to make pre-tax salary deferral contributions at any time during employment, including the first year of employment.

Employees who work a minimum of 1,000 hours during the twelve month (365-day) eligibility period following their date of hire or subsequent twelve-month period beginning on their anniversary date are eligible to receive employer contributions to the Archdiocese of St. Louis Lay Employees Retirement Plan. The Archdiocese pays an employer pre-tax contribution into the Plan, calculated on a percentage of the employee's gross compensation each pay period.

Once an employee completes the eligibility period as defined by the Plan, the employee is eligible thereafter for the employer contribution regardless of the number of hours worked. . An employee who is rehired with an entity of the Archdiocese with more than a five (5) year break in service must complete the eligibility requirements before being qualified for the employer contribution.

Employees of the Archdiocese who work in multiple locations with so-called "split" salaries may complete the eligibility period through the accumulation of hours between those various locations. Coordination between the employee and his/her respective Archdiocesan employers is necessary to ensure the eligibility is noted and credited. Each employer is responsible for its respective share of the employer contribution.

- ADOPTION ASSISTANCE PROGRAM

The Archdiocese of St. Louis offers eligible employees financial assistance to employees who adopt an eligible child. The international or domestic adoption would be processed through Good Shepherd Children and Family Services, a member of Catholic Charities of St. Louis. An employee must work at least 1,000 hours per year and have been employed for at least one year.

- EMPLOYEE ASSISTANCE PLAN (EAP)

An employee who works 1,000 hours or more per year and dependents may access the services of the Archdiocesan Employee Assistance Plan. The EAP provides assessment, counseling, referral service and follow up for family problems, parenting issues, marital/relationship conflicts, emotional concerns (stress, anxiety, depression), alcohol/drug problems, and referral for financial and/or legal problems. All services provided by the EAP counselor are confidential. There is no charge for the services of the EAP counselor.

- FLEXIBLE SPENDING ACCOUNT (FSA)

An employee who works 1,000 hours a year or more may access the Archdiocese of St. Louis Flexible Spending Account. The plan permits employees to make pre-tax deductions for qualified expenses for health care and/or dependent care expenses. The Dependent Care Plan lets employees pay for eligible child or dependent care expenses with contributions taken from their pay before taxes are withheld. The FSA allows employees to pay for eligible medical and dental expenses that are not otherwise covered by insurance with contributions taken from their pay before taxes. Enrollment in the plan is for the fiscal year – July 1 through June 30. Participants must re-enroll annually during the Open Enrollment period using Employee Self-Service.

- PROFESSIONAL GROWTH

Employees are encouraged to take advantage of opportunities for professional growth, which are job related and which will enable the employee to make an immediate contribution to his/her current job. Where possible, some portion of the costs may be paid by the Archdiocese. The Director will determine the suitability of the opportunity and what amount, if any, will be paid by the Archdiocese.

- UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE

Due to its religious exemption under the Missouri Employment Security Law, wages earned by employees for services performed for the Archdiocese will not be used to determine insured worker status of unemployment benefits. Employees are not eligible for unemployment benefits through the State of Missouri.

TIME OFF POLICIES

SICK LEAVE

If an employee has accrued sick days, they may be used to receive paid time-off if the employee is unable to work due to his/her personal illness or illness of an immediate family member for whom they are responsible. Sick pay benefits will accrue at the rate shown in the following schedule beginning on the first of the month after the initial date of employment up to a maximum of ten days per year. Any unused sick pay benefits may accrue and be carried over from year to year up to a maximum of 120 days. Accrued but not used sick days will not be paid upon termination.

Part-time employees receive sick pay benefits proportionate to the time worked (i.e., an employee who works 20 hours per week receives a maximum of five days annually). Absences should be reported in accordance with the Absence/Tardiness policy. The Archdiocese may request written verification of the illness by a health care professional.

Any Sick Leave taken under this policy shall be included in the leave granted under the Family and Medical Leave Act, if applicable, and shall not be in addition to leave granted under that Act.

VACATION

All employees are offered the rest, relaxation, and reflection time of an annual paid vacation. Timing of vacations should take into consideration the needs of the Archdiocese and the employee. Supervisors must approve vacation schedules in advance of taking the time off.

Vacation begins to accrue on the first of the month following the date of hire. The vacation year begins July 1 and ends June 30. There is no “carryover” vacation privilege. Credited vacation unused after June 30 is forfeited. At no time will vacation be paid in lieu of taking the time off work except upon voluntary termination of employment, where the required notice has been provided. Employees with less than twelve months of service will forfeit any remaining vacation balance at termination.

Holy Days and the Day after Christmas will be observed only when they occur during the normal workweek. When they occur on Saturdays and Sundays they will not be paid, and no compensatory days off will be granted.

Support staff required to work on a Holiday or Holy Day will receive an alternative day off.

Part-time employees will receive the day off with pay if the Holiday or Holy Day is on a day when the part-time employee is normally scheduled to work.

PERSONAL LEAVE

The Director can grant time off without pay for urgent personal needs or duties that cannot be accomplished outside of working hours. Unless there is an emergency, employees should discuss the need for personal leave well in advance of the anticipated absence.

BEREAVEMENT LEAVE

For purposes of mourning and attending a funeral, a regular employee shall be granted up to three (3) regularly scheduled consecutive work days of leave with pay upon the death of any of the following: spouse, child, parent, brother, sister, brother-in-law, sister-in-law, parent-in-law or grandparent.

Directors may grant permission for bereavement leave for deceased persons other than the aforementioned after discussion of circumstances that may necessitate the presence of the employee at the funeral.

PARENTAL LEAVE FOR BIRTH OF A CHILD OR ADOPTION

Supportive of the Church's Respect-Life position, for regular employees who: (a) have worked for an entity of the Archdiocese for at least twelve (12) months, and (b) have worked for at least 1,000 hours in the previous twelve (12) months, for birth of a child or adoption by the employee or the employee's spouse, a total of twenty (20) days paid leave will be provided to each employee each fiscal year (July 1 - June 30). This paid leave will not come out of vacation allowance or medical/sick leave days and will be provided first and automatically to any qualified employee. This policy applies to all qualified employees, men or women.

Please note that a policy limitation of a cumulative total of twenty (20) paid days per fiscal year to each qualified employee, or to each couple, if entities of the Archdiocese employ both individuals, will apply. This leave is not deferrable nor can it be accrued. It can only be used proximate to the birth or adoption event.

Any Parental Leave granted under this policy shall be included in the leave granted under the Family and Medical Leave Policy, if applicable, and shall not be in addition to Family and Medical Leave.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

A regular employee who has completed one year or more of service for the Archdiocese may request an unpaid leave of absence. Granting an unpaid leave of absence will depend upon the feasibility of the request and the mutual agreement of employer and employee.

MILITARY LEAVE

A military leave of absence will be granted to an employee to serve in the uniformed services of the United States for a period of up to five years. Persons who perform and return from service will retain certain rights with respect to reinstatement, seniority, layoffs, compensation, and other benefits as provided by applicable federal or state law. A notice of your rights under the Uniformed Services Employment and Reemployment Rights Act (USERRA) is posted in your workplace.

FAMILY AND MEDICAL LEAVE (FMLA)

The Archdiocese of St. Louis will comply with the Family and Medical Leave Act of 1993 (FMLA).

Employees eligible for family and medical leave are those who have been employed for at least twelve months and have worked at least 1,250 hours during the previous twelve-month period.

An eligible employee may take unpaid leave for the following reasons:

1. For incapacity due to pregnancy, prenatal medical care or child birth;
2. To care for the employee's child after birth, or placement for adoption or foster care;
3. To care for the employee's spouse, son or daughter, or parent, who has a serious health condition; or
4. For a serious health condition that makes the employee unable to perform the employee's job.

An eligible employee may be entitled to up to twelve weeks of unpaid leave within a twelve-month period without loss of seniority or benefits. The FMLA year will be a "rolling" 12-month period measured backward from the day an employee uses FMLA leave. In other words, the amount of FMLA leave available to an employee is reduced by the amount used over the past 12 months. An employee who voluntarily fails to return to work immediately following expiration of the authorized leave period is subject to termination. All leave taken under this policy and leave for any other reason which would qualify under FMLA, e.g., worker's compensation leave, sick leave, vacation, parental leave, personal leave, will be counted against the employee's leave entitlement under FMLA.

During a family or medical leave provided under this policy, an employee shall exhaust all accrued sick leave or parental leave, if either are applicable, and vacation before continuing such leave on an unpaid basis. Family and Medical Leave will run concurrently with any such other leave.

If an employee takes a leave of absence because of the serious health condition of the employee or the employee's family member, the employee must submit to the Director written medical certification from a health care provider of the serious health condition. Failure to provide such certification upon request may result in a denial or delay of leave. The Archdiocese reserves the right to require that the employee receive a second (and possibly a third) opinion from another health care provider (at the Archdiocese's expense) certifying the serious health condition of the employee or the employee's family member. For the employee's own medical leave, the certification must include a statement that the employee is unable to perform at least one of the essential functions of his or her position. For leave to care for a seriously ill family member, the certification must include an estimate of the amount of time that the employee is needed to provide care. The Archdiocese reserves the right to require that an employee provide the Archdiocese with recertification of the medical condition for which leave is being taken.

Before being returned to work an employee who is on leave of absence as a result of his or her own serious health condition must submit a health care provider's written certification that the employee is able to return to work. Failure to provide such certification may result in the delay or denial of job restoration.

During the employee's leave, the Archdiocese may also periodically inquire as to the employee's intent to return to work or, in the case of intermittent or reduced schedule leave, of the employee's intent to return to his/her regular work schedule. In addition, it is the employee's responsibility to inform his or her Director weekly of his/her status and intended return to work date or return to a regular schedule.

Leave taken because of the employee's or family member's serious health condition may be taken on an intermittent or reduced schedule basis when medically necessary. If an employee seeks leave on an intermittent or reduced schedule basis, the employee must submit medical certification, as discussed above and additional certification from the health care provider that the intermittent or reduced schedule leave is medically necessary. For certification for intermittent leave or leave on a reduced schedule for planned medical treatment, the certificate must state the dates in which such treatment is expected to be given and the duration of the treatment. The Archdiocese may require an employee taking intermittent or reduced schedule leave to transfer temporarily to an alternative available position for which the employee is qualified or may modify the employee's current position to better accommodate the employee's recurring period of leave.

During the employee's family or medical leave of absence, the Archdiocese will continue to provide health insurance coverage for the employee; however, the employee will remain personally responsible for paying the employee's portion of the insurance premium. While on paid leave, the Archdiocese will continue to make applicable payroll deductions for the employee's share of the premium(s). While on unpaid leave, the employee is responsible for making payments to cover the employee contribution. Such payments may be made prior to the leave or by the first day of each month of the leave and must be submitted directly to Human Resources. Failure to pay premiums in a timely manner may result in lapse of coverage.

Upon return from family or medical leave in accordance with this policy, the employee will be returned to the same or an equivalent position with no loss in benefits which accrued prior to the leave of absence. An employee who voluntarily does not return to work at the end of an authorized leave is subject to termination.

Certain "key employees" may not be eligible to be restored to the same or an equivalent job at the conclusion of their leave. The Archdiocese will notify such employees of their "key employee" status and the conditions under which job restoration may be denied, if applicable.

An employee who expects or anticipates taking a family or medical leave is required to notify his or her Director of the date of commencement and the expected duration of the leave at least 30 days in advance of the leave, or, if the need for the leave is not foreseeable, as soon as practicable. In cases where the need for leave is foreseeable, an employee's failure to provide 30 days' notice prior to taking leave may result in denial or delay of leave. An employee requesting leave under this policy should submit a complete application for leave form to the Director. An employee who is absent for more than three consecutive scheduled workdays must request a parental or personal leave of absence or a Family and Medical Leave Act Leave of Absence. The Archdiocese will then determine the applicability of the leave pursuant to the Family and Medical Leave policy or other leave of absence policy.

Any employee who anticipates the possibility of taking family or medical leave, or has any questions about the application of this policy to his/her particular situation should contact the Director.

MILITARY ENTITLEMENTS UNDER FMLA

Eligible employees with a spouse, son, daughter, or parent on active duty or call to active duty status in the National Guard or Reserves in support of a contingency operation may use their 12-week leave entitlement to address certain qualifying exigencies. Qualifying exigencies may include attending certain military events, arranging for alternative childcare, addressing certain financial and legal arrangements, attending certain counseling sessions, and attending post-deployment reintegration briefings.

FMLA also includes a special leave entitlement that permits eligible employees to take up to 26 weeks of leave to care for a covered servicemember during a single 12-month period. A covered servicemember is a current member of the Armed Forces, including a member of the National Guard or Reserves, who has a serious injury or illness incurred in the line of duty on active duty that may render the servicemember medically unfit to perform his or her duties for which the servicemember is undergoing medical treatment, recuperation, or therapy; or is in outpatient status; or is on the temporary disability retired list.

JURY DUTY

The Archdiocese recognizes an employee's civic obligation to serve as a juror. When employees are selected for jury duty, they receive time off with pay to serve. The Archdiocese will continue to pay the employee based on the gross income the employee might have expected to receive for work performed during normal work hours while on jury duty.

Immediately upon selection for jury duty, the employee shall notify his/her supervisor. The employee shall report for jury duty each day as instructed by the court. At times, the employee may be released from jury service during normal working hours. When this is the case, the employee should report to work.
