Historical Note
St. Mary's of the Barrens Seminary in Perryville, MO

At the invitation of Bishop William DuBourg, the Vincentians founded St. Mary's of the Barrens Seminary in Perryville, MO in 1818. In addition to being a formation house for Vincentians, it would operate as a Diocesan seminary (for the entire Louisiana territory) until 1842. It closed in 1985. The archives can be found at DePaul University Special Collections and Archives in Chicago, Illinois.

Theological Seminary of St. Louis

Bishop Joseph Rosati, CM recognized that the Seminary must be brought to St. Louis to separate the Diocesan Seminarians from the Vincentians at St. Mary of the Barrens. He bought Soulard's Addition, or "Bishop's Row," in 1842, and transferred professors and students to the Theological Seminary of St. Louis. Bishop's Row was formerly a set of poor houses on Carroll Street. On February 26, 1844, the Soulard mansion at Soulard and 9th Streets was purchased by Rev. John Timon, CM, from the Soulard Family. Rev. Timon was Superior of the Vincentians and thus also director of the seminary. Students and professors moved in April.

In 1848, the Theological Seminary of St. Louis relocated once again from Soulard and 9th Streets (at the time Marion and Decatur Streets) to Carondelet. The Theological Seminary of St. Louis closed in 1859. Seminarians for the Archdiocese attended other seminaries, including St. Vincent's College in Cape Girardeau, MO, which was operated by the Vincentians from 1838-1979. St. Vincent's College archives can also be found at DePaul University in Chicago.

On October 18, 1869, the St. Louis Roman Catholic Theological Seminary was incorporated, but the Archdiocese didn't have a building to run the seminary yet.

Kenrick-Glennon Seminary

On July 12, 1892, Archbishop Peter R. Kenrick purchased the Sisters of the Visitation Convent at Cass Ave and 19th Streets for the seminary. In giving the seminary to the Vincentians, they honored the Archbishop by naming it Kenrick Seminary. Classes opened on December 4, 1893. The State of Missouri granted charter to the Saint Louis Roman Catholic Theological Seminary, which was its official name, in June 1898.

In 1912, Archbishop John Glennon purchased Drummond Estate south of the village of Shrewsbury. The groundbreaking occurred April 21, 1913. The cornerstone was laid on Thanksgiving, November 17, 1913. At the completion of the building, twenty-five thousand people visited and viewed the edifice on September 12, 1915.

On September 14, 1915, one hundred sixty students enrolled at the new Kenrick Seminary. The formal opening and mass by Glennon, sharing the Feast of Our Lady of the Miraculous Medal, was November 27, 1915. The official dedication of Seminary was April 27, 1916, and the same date as Glennon's 13th Anniversary as archbishop of St. Louis. Apostolic Delegate John Bonzano officiated. Altogether participating in the dedication were four Archbishops, fifteen Bishops, six Papal Prelates and three hundred and fifty priests. The festivities lasted four days.

In 1957, Archbishop Joseph Ritter split the seminary system into three distinct institutions: St. Louis Preparatory Seminary (high school), the four-year formational Glennon College, and Kenrick Seminary (the School of Theology). Kenrick Seminary was awarded accreditation by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools in 1973, and admitted to full membership in the Association of Theological School in the United States and Canada. The seminary awarded its first Master of Divinity degrees to 29 recipients in 1974. In 1975, it awarded its first Master of Arts degrees.

In 1980, Kenrick Seminary sold 164 acres of its grounds between the seminary and college for residential and commercial development, including the Cardinal Ritter Institute. In 1986, Archbishop John May decided to combine Kenrick Seminary and Glennon College into Kenrick-Glennon Seminary. In 1987, the Kenrick Seminary moved to the Cardinal Glennon College site at 5200 Glennon Drive, and the institution was jointly called Kenrick-Glennon Seminary. Kenrick retained its status as a free-standing school of theology, and Glennon College adapted a collaborative model undergraduate program with the Saint Louis University College of Philosophy and Letters. College seminary students in their first two years attend Saint Louis University for classes but reside at the Kenrick-Glennon Seminary complex, where they receive their human and spiritual formation. Third and fourth year college seminarians complete their philosophy studies at Cardinal Glennon College. A Board of Trustees for Kenrick-Glennon Seminary was established in 1988.

In 1995, Archbishop Justin Rigali announced that after 177 years of collaboration between the Vincentian Community and the Archdiocese in the running of the Seminary, the Archdiocese would henceforth assume full responsibility.

Other dates of interest for the Seminary include:
- 1918 November: The Influenza Epidemic hit faculty and students. Fifty people were effected and only one passed from the dreaded disease.
- 1931 January 26: Noted English writer G.K. Chesterton visited Kenrick Seminary.
- 1932 May: New organ was completed by Kilgen & Sons and situated in the choir loft.
- 1936 October 30: Then-Papal Secretary of State Eugenio Cardinal Pacelli visited Kenrick Seminary on his tour through the U.S. Cardinal Pacelli would become Pope Pius XII.
- 1941 December 20: Archbishop John J. Glennon ordained 7 priests earlier than usual, due to the dire need of military chaplains in the war.
- 1960: The U.S. Apostolic Delegate Archbishop Egidio Vagnozzi visited Kenrick Seminary and Glennon College.

After combining Kenrick-Glennon Seminary into the building at 5200 Glennon Drive, the former seminary building was called the Archdiocesan Pastoral Center and used for retreats and meetings for next 13 years, as well as housing offices for about 70 archdiocesan employees. The first archdiocesan agencies had moved into the Kenrick Seminary building in 1986, including the Archdiocesan Computer Training Center, Office of Continuing Formation and the Office of Ministry. In 1998, Archbishop Justin Rigali decided to preserve and enhance the pastoral center, as well as provide for long-term building efficiencies by consolidating archdiocesan offices there. Renovations occurred on the building between 1999 and 2002. It was renamed the Cardinal Rigali Center in 2003, and is now home to over 35 agencies and 300 employees (as of 2018).

Scope and Content

The records are primarily centered on Kenrick Seminary. Because of the overlapping missions and persons within the seminary system, records occasionally contain information on other seminaries and colleges. The records from Cardinal Glennon College are represented after the physical and administrative merger in 1987. Prior to that date, the college's records are separated into Record Group RG 03 D 05. The records are organized into 12 series:

Series 1: Administration

Subseries 1.1: Certification and Annual Reports, 1869-2009
Includes articles of incorporation and bylaws (1869-1988), agreements between the Congregation of the Mission and the Archdiocese regarding the operation of the seminary and college (1915-1989), accreditation applications and reports, Apostolic and NCCB visitations, self-studies, and official annual reports. The incorporation file contains prior diocesan seminaries as well, including the St. Louis Theological Seminary documents.

Subseries 1.2: Leadership, 1893-2009 [75-Year Restriction]
Includes rectors' correspondence, manuscripts, seminary activity logs (diaries); Presidents Council meetings minutes; Domestic Council meeting minutes; Vincentian staff's correspondence, reports and meeting materials; and Administrative Council meetings minutes and handbooks. The various councils oversaw policy, administrative and academic operations of the seminary and in turn advised the archbishop. Records regarding the merger of the seminary and college are present at the end of this subseries.

Subseries 1.3: Property and Financial Records, 1850, 1893-2006
Property records include facility assessments, floor plans, and blueprints for construction and renovation, including the Kenrick Seminary property at 20 Archbishop May Drive and the Kenrick-Glennon Seminary property at 5200 Glennon Drive. Financial records include records of the Sanctuary Society and Convivium fundraising groups and events; year-end reports; and ledgers on early tuition accounts (1900-1933); payroll records (1905-1933); and general receipts and expenses.

Series 2: Governing Boards [75-Year Restriction]

Subseries 2.1: Archdiocesan Seminary Board, 1984-1986
Includes minutes of the Board.

Subseries 2.2: Board of Trustees, 1985-2007
Includes minutes, correspondence, by-laws and membership of the Board and its committees. The Board was originally formed in 1984 by Archbishop John May to examine the four seminary systems and make recommendations for their existence.

Series 3: Faculty and Staff

Subseries 3.1: Faculty Council, 1942-2010 [75-Year Restriction]
Includes minutes and by-laws of the Council.

Subseries 3.2: Academic Faculty Council, 1970-1985 [75-Year Restriction]
Includes minutes of the Council.

Subseries 3.3: Faculty-Staff meetings and files, 1966-2008 [75-Year Restriction]
Includes a list of faculty per year from 1970 to 2000, as well as minutes, correspondence, handbooks and proposals by faculty and staff. Handbooks are not restricted.

Subseries 3.4: Sisters serving at seminary, 1914-1991
Includes correspondence and agreements with the religious Sisters serving at the seminary, including the Missionary Sisters, Servants of the Holy Spirit from Techny, IL (1915-1931); the Sisters of Charity of St. Vincent de Paul of Zams, Austria (1931-1963); and the Congregation of the Carmelite Religious of Mexico (1963-present).

Subseries 3.5: Library, 1949-1991
Includes library reports, guidebooks, history and holdings information for specific collections in the library and archives.

Subseries 3.6: Academic Dean's faculty files [Restricted], 1899-2000
Includes personnel records on faculty and staff via paper and microfilm. Records are restricted indefinitely, except to person named in the record.

Series 4: Curriculum

Subseries 4.1: Committees and Programs of Study, 1965-2003 [50-Year Restriction on minutes and correspondence]
Includes minutes, correspondence and working papers of committees on revising curriculum, educational policy and programs. Programs include Masters of Arts, leadership enrichment, and collaborative programs with Saint Louis University and other regional seminaries beginning in 1965. Committee minutes and correspondence are restricted for 50 years from the date of creation.

Subseries 4.2: Course catalogs, 1906-2016
Includes standard course catalogs, offerings and descriptions.

Subseries 4.3: Calendars, 1931-2001
Includes academic and event calendars.

Subseries 4.4: Course exams, 1934-1980
Includes course exams given to students.

Series 5: Ordinations

Subseries 5.1: Preliminary Exams and Testimonials, 1931-1961
Includes canonical examinations and dismissorial letters (testimonials) required before ordination.

Subseries 5.2: Official Records, 1893-2014
Includes the official ordination records with signatures and seals.

Subseries 5.3: Programs, 1964-2010
Includes the programs of ordinations and first solemn masses.

Subseries 5.4: Invitations, 1922-2010
Includes invitations to ordinations and first solemn masses.

Series 6: Student Records [Restricted]

Includes grade books, enrollment, ordinations, transcripts and correspondence of students. Records are restricted indefinitely, except to person named in the record.

Series 7: Student Life

Subseries 7.1: Student lists, 1873-2001
Includes lists of enrolled students and alumni per year, including room and work assignments in some cases.

Subseries 7.2: Rules and handbooks, 1910-2007
Includes behavioral rules and academic handbooks for students.

Subseries 7.3: Student Life Association, 1937-2008
Includes by-laws, minutes, correspondence and events by the Student Life Association and its committees. Prior renditions of the association were called Kenrick Student Association and Community Council of Kenrick Seminary.

Subseries 7.4: Clubs and organizations, 1919-1984
Includes minutes and records of student-run clubs, organizations and departments. Of interest are the Mission Society's records, which include the annual programs for the Mission Field Day (1919-1966); Correspondence Courses (1937-1957); Catholic Information Society (1936-1961); and the Motor Mission manuals from 1949 and 1955.

Subseries 7.5: Activities and events, 1895-2014
Includes flyers, invitations, programs, notes and souvenirs of activities and events that have occurred at the seminary.

Subseries 7.6: Convocation, 1974-2014
Includes programs and invitations for academic convocation at Kenrick Seminary.

Series 8: Alumni Association, 1900-2002
Includes by-laws, membership, minutes, correspondence, programs, alumni lists, and publications from the Association.

Series 9: Publications, 1894-2006
Contains student-body- and seminary-produced publications, including directories, news publications, journals, and anniversary booklets. Of interest is the 1916 dedication program of the seminary. Alumni publications are in Series 8. Individual faculty and student publications are in Series 10.2.

Series 10: Historical and Personal Papers

Series 10.1: History of the Seminaries, 1908-1996
Includes essays and general notes narrating the history of the seminary; speeches and homilies made at the seminary; and some special events such as city and state proclamations, a blessing by the Pope in 1908, and documentation on the Kenrick Award and Distinguished Alumnus Award. Also of interest is the file on the charitable food pantry through the seminary during the Great Depression.

Series 10.2: Manuscripts and Biographies, 1910-2006
Includes the personal manuscripts and papers of students, alumni, faculty and bishops. There are also several files containing biographical materials or memorabilia of persons associated with the seminary.

Series 10.3: Oral histories, 1971-1993
Includes the cassette tapes, transcriptions and notes of oral histories done with alumni between 1971 and 1993. The interviews mainly discuss student life at the seminary itself. Two interviews with Msgr. Alphonse Westhoff and Msgr. Aloysius Wilmes are specifically about Msgr. Martin B. Hellriegel and his work.

Series 10.4: Memorial Cards, 1892-2005
The collection includes cards of ordination, first solemn mass, priestly jubilees and death. The collection is not exhaustive of students that have attended the seminary, and there are several non-diocesan and religious represented.

Series 11: Photographs, 1900-2002
Includes photographs of students, alumni, professors and staff; events and activities; and buildings. Present are photographs of the Soulard mansion that held the Theological Seminary, the original seminary building at 20 Archbishop May Drive, and the present seminary building at 5200 Glennon Drive. There is a series of Kenrick Alumni Portraits of bishops who were former students, and once hung in the halls of the seminary. They have been unframed.

Series 12: Artifacts and Audio-Visual Materials, 1916-2016

Films include footage of annual Kenrick Mission Field Days; vocation promotional films called "Captains in His Army" and "God's Career Women;" and a few unidentified films. Most films have been digitized. Also present are LPs, VHS and DVD of events and staged recordings. Artifacts include vestments, apparel and commemorative coins and souvenirs. Of interest is the Mission Society Flag, circa 1930s.
